Carnival Crowd Sees Pageant of Elks

In a blaze of color and light, in a riot of music, laughter, merriment and pleasure-making, to which was added true carnival spirit, the Elks' Harvest Festival opened last night at the Shriners' Auditorium on Jefferson street.

Five thousand persons made of the magnificent spectacle a tremendous success and reveled until midnight to the tuneful clink of flowing dimes and dollars which will make up the fund for the entertainment of the Elks' national convention in this city next June.

Within the monstrous auditorium the scene was the most magnificent and spectacular ever presented on the Pacific Coast. The attendance was beyond the fondest hopes of the management. If the first night may be taken as a criterion the financial end will be more than satisfactory.

Long before the appointed hour for the opening of the festival the great auditorium was filled. As one entered the great doors the eye met a wondrous blaze of color. There was color everywhere and of every tint. In striking riot overhead were thousands of flags, pennants and festoons which formed a veritable canopy. Red, white and blue predominated, but interspersed were the emblematic banners in purple and white of the Elks, and then ranging the entire gamut of color harmony.

And in the coloring of the dozens of booths ranged along the sides of the coliseum on both the main floor and the balcony, not a tint seemed to have escaped the decorators and designers. Such was the harmony that there was not a point which jarred on the sense.

Gives Women Credit.

In a few words Motley H. Flint, chairman of the executive committee, welcomed the guests and gave credit for the great success of the festival to the woman who occupied the booths.

Following a short musical program the White Squadron Drill Corps of the Los Angeles Elks lodge performed a wonderfully intricate drill, bringing cheer after cheer for their puzzling formations.

Then the festival began in earnest. From booth to booth passed the great throng. At every turn one came upon a gypsy or a Japanese, or a Spaniard, or a grocery clerk, or an auctioneer with tickets for raffles. One might take a chance of winning almost anything from an automobile, carriage or costly ostrich feather, down to a sofa pillow or roll of garden hose. Almost every conceivable object was offered, and always with a chance for anyone to win it; it is all a lottery.—Los Angeles Examiner.

Territorial Convention.

A meeting of delegates from the various lodges of Elks in Arizona was held at Phoenix commencing Thursday, Nov. 12. Lloyd C. Henning representing Winslow Lodge No. 536. The object of this meeting is to make all necessary arrangements for the attendance of Arizona Elks at the Grand Lodge and Reunion at Los Angeles in July, 1909.

Mr. Henning will return in time to make a report of the doings of this convention at the next regular meeting of Winslow lodge on Thursday, Nov. 19, and it is hoped that a large attendance will be present at that time so that all may know what is being done.

Fifteen Cent Copper Before January First

Boston, Nov. 9.—That copper will be about fifteen cents before January 1, 1909, and that as a result there will be a big boom in the copper stocks before that date, is the prediction among handlers of the red metal in the east. Nowhere has the revival been more marked than in those industries largely dependent upon railroad prosperity, and the resumption by scores of big plants of this nature means without doubt the resumption of others, and a consequent enormous increase in the demand for copper.

The expected boom in the coppers is forecasted in Walker's copper letter in Saturday's Boston Commercial.—Special to Bismineer.

New Gold Piece

The mints at Philadelphia, San Francisco and Denver have begun coining a new $5 gold piece struck on a different plan from any heretofore coined in the world. It follows an idea expressed to President Roosevelt by Dr. William Sturgis Bigelow of Boston, that to permit the coins being piled to a uniform height a high or strong relief might be obtained by depressing the design below the field or face of the coin, instead of raising it above, as usual in all coining operations. This would provide a flat field and a uniform thickness, the flat surface taking the wear and protecting the relief, the shape of the depression following the outline of the relief. The same design will be used on the two-and-a-half dollar pieces, and all will bear the "In God We Trust" motto. While never applied to coins, the counter sinking relief is one of the oldest forms of sculpture in stone.
